Welcome Farm Credit Folks—We WANT You To See!

Ed Murrow, of distinguished SHAME, joins other "disasters" inflicted on these "disasters" have only pointed up the unusual advantages Nature has combined in soil and climate in the Glades and the results man's initiative, ingenuity and industry have accomplished.

Winter vegetables from our major effort; beef production, a complementary crop, with a leavens-producing diversification; these three, plus sod, as a program by itself, or a by-product of many cattlemen, will be seen by you farmer-business men of four states who make the rules for financing agricultural production under the government-sponsored, but privately owned, credit agencies.

The Farm Credit Administration, like the FFA, is a government sponsored agency that pays its own way and returns monies to the US Treasury, at no cost to the taxpayer.

The farmer, and especially the Florida farmer, and the small home owner, are generally outstanding examples of individuality and independence; they want to pay their own way; they don't want government subsidies — the Farm Credit Administration in its several branches, affords the farmer a business-like way in which to do these things.

Your group, from appraiser thru officialdom to the Board itself, will observe modern mechanical agricultural effort that has helped to keep America's food bill at the bottom of a skyrocketing economy.

Manager Talmadge Reports Progress

At its regular meeting Wednesday night, City Manager reported to the Commission the following:

Work has begun on the 100,000-gallon elevated water tank located on a site at the Glades State Prison Farm. Roemer Construction Co., is installing the foundation work for the general contractor R. D. Cole Manufacturing Co.

The Manager has instructed the City Building Inspector to make a survey on requesting owners to clear lots in the city on which debris and old autos have been piled. A nuisance law to do this, or have it done by the City at the owner's expense. The Manager didn't point out that particular lot, but lots of folks in Belle Glade could help find one, or more.

The piling and 80 percent of the debris from the Community Building have been put in place. A letter has been sent to the REC stating that the City can afford only 21, and other good and valuable considerations of privilege of placing pipes on or under property owned "by the City." The first wanted 60c per running foot, but later offered permits for 50c each, which the City declined.

The Manager reports that the pits in question are the 13th Street line from the canal to the AB & C Crute Co. and an 8" line under the railway where it crosses State Road No. 717.

The Manager states "These permits are holding the City's work towards providing water for the packing houses."

Sen. Smathers Adversely "Cut Castro's Dollars"

Senator George Smathers, Republican of Florida, President, in his newsletter says: "Every American Dollar that flows into Castro's treasury will be used to finance the export of Cuban Communist revolution, to propagandize our Latin American friends and to purchase essential materials to keep his regime in power."

To combat this dollar flow to Cuba I have written Secretary of State Rusk urging that US place an import embargo on Cuban goods, similar to the one which now prohibits sales of any strategic materials to Castro. Presently, sugar is the only Cuban commodity which cannot be sold to the U.S.

"It is about time, I believe, for our government to decide whether or not it intends to deny Cuba strategic materials and dollars by every means at our disposal by plugging up the loopholes which permits millions of dollars to drain into Castro's pocket."

More Production From Less Acreage

Florida farmers are producing more crops on less land than they did five years ago, the Florida State Chamber of Commerce stated yesterday.

Latest agricultural census figures, for 1959, show 45,000 farms in the state, about 9,000 below the 1954 count. Total Everglades Federal for 500,000 acres to 15,000,000 acres during the period. ### BETTER HEALTH—MORE ENJOYMENT

Working in cooperation with retailers, the American Meat Institute has been conducting a campaign to stimulate the consumption and sale of meat. Its nutritional value is stressed.

This campaign obviously is designed to serve the economic interests of the members of the great industry—the producers, packers, processors and distributors. But its significance goes further. For meat, as the nutritionists tell us, is essential to the physical and mental health of the vast majority of people.

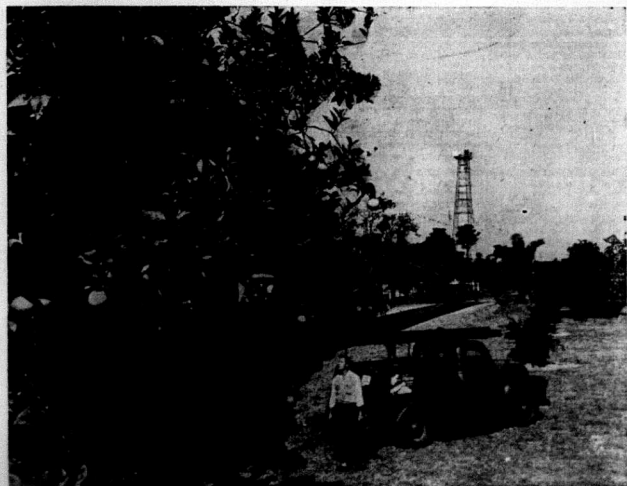

It is a rich and dependable source of complete proteins—the proteins that build and repair muscles, cells and tissues. It is a source of many essential minerals—copper, iron and phosphorus among them. It is an important source of vitamins, especially the Vitamin B group, including B-1 which is necessary for growth, appetite and protection against certain diseases. Meat is prescribed by physicians, nutritionists and dietitians for both the overweight and the underweight; for the young and the old; for the convalescent and the expectant mother; and is given to patients suffering from a long list of diseases—anaemia, arthritis, rheumatism, high blood pressure, tuberculosis and so on.

To frust the cake, practically everyone likes meat and regards it as the central element in a good meal. So we can serve the end of better health and enjoy doing it.

"A poll on labor legislation by a national private research organization came up with these surprising results: 62 per cent of a cross section of Americans questioned believe unions should be brought under anti-trust laws; 63 per cent of union members polled favored close regulation of unions by the government."—National Review.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover reminds us, "The freedom we enjoy came dearly to this Nation; bought in blood, and tears, and sacrifice. It has given us a truly magnificent system of justice, and of government, and of commerce, and of social institutions, and a standard of living which is the highest ever recorded by any civilization."

Uncle Dan

Dear Mister Editor:

It's a great pity some of them Washington column writers don't cover our sessions at the country store. They'd get more horse sense in one Saturday night than they get from a whole session of the Congress.

Saturday night, fer instand, Ed Doolittle unveiled a plan that would help get a heap of folks out of debt. He called to mind how them Federal income tax officials come out several year ago with colored stripes on envelopes to tell the public know how much income tax a feller was paying. If he was reporting $10,000 a year, fer instand, he got a envelope with a yellow stripe on it, so's folks in the post office, the mail man and all his neighbors would know about it. The politicians made the tax folks cut it out, but Ed allows as how the idea is sound as a 1910 dollar.

Take the merchants, fer instand, said Ed. If a feller is a couple months behind on his bill, let the merchant send him a envelope with two big red stripes on it. If he's behind three months, send him one with three red stripes. And when he gets a whole year behind, send him one printed red all over with his name in black. Ed allowed as how people could tell just exactly how everybody else was getting along and that folks would start paying their bills a heap better.

Zeke Grubb allowed that the system was good, would cover about everything except a woman, age. Clem Webster said they ain't no system to cover this situation, that about the only way you can find out a woman's age fer shore is to ask her mother-in-law.

But Hooke was lamenting that while Ed's system might help a little, they ain't no cure fer debt in this country unless we do away with automobiles. Bug claims we got millions of people in this country that ain't doing nothing but supporting their automobile. Out this way, fer instand, Bug says most folks keep up the payments on their car and if they is anything left, they pay their taxes and get outta town. Mister Editor?

Well, I see by the papers where President Kennedy aims to get a team of folks and train 'em in the field of promoting peace and disarmament. Up to now, allow, Kennedy's team that's been handling that department ain't had no more training in it than a house cat has had pointing a covey of quail. But the Prime Minister of England says he ain't going to follow suit, is going to stick to the one-man system. I reckon he figgers that one man can handle about all the peace and disarmament we got at present.

Yours truly,
 Uncle Dan

The '61 Chevy loves to go because it goes so well. Turns along pavements like a happy talley. Takes rough roads in stride and all roads in style. It all came about through a delightful blend of Full Coil suspension, precision-balanced wheels, unique chassis engineering, and a superb Body by Fisher insulated to hush away road sounds. Now combine this Jet-smooth ride with conveniences to pamper you and roominess to relax in. Add a full measure of quiet good looks. Voila, you've got Chevy's formula.

"I feel strongly that the public is entitled to protect by the states, under state laws."

He also says "88 would open 99, law airline strikes by amending the airway Labor Act to require compulsory arbitration of work stoppages in commercial aviation industry."

The Senator compliments President Kennedy on sending Ribicoff to Miami to study the Cuban relief situation. "Badly needed funds are now assured, showing clearly our interest and sympathy in helping those unfortunate Cubans who have suffered under the dictatorial Castro regime."

The Senator reports on a trip over the Inter-American Highway in six Central American countries. "The highway can be traveled, in dry weather throughout its length from Laredo, Texas to Panama City, but with 39 bridges in southwest Costa Rica and several unpassable links keep it from being attractive to tourists as yet."

US Travel Service Rogers Proposal

Congressman Paul G. Rogers has introduced legislation in the House of Representatives to establish a United States Travel Service within the Department of Commerce headed by an Assistant Secretary to aid and coordinate efforts to increase foreign travel in the United States.

Of particular interest to Florida, already a renowned resort, and to South Florida because of existing port facilities and international airports, the bill would seek to increase the number of visitors from abroad by establishing American travel offices overseas, ease travel restrictions and speed up the processing of visitors when they enter and leave this country.

President Kennedy in his message to Congress on the balance of payments problem and gold outflow, called for action in this field. The President pointed out in his message that American travelers annually spend some $2 billion in foreign countries while foreign travelers only spend about $1 billion in this country. The President indicated he has asked the Secretary of Commerce to begin "action now to encourage travel but that additional legislation is needed."

Rogers Bill Prevents Passports To Communists

Congressman Paul G. Rogers today introduced his bill to permit the Secretary of State to deny, after a proper hearing, passports to persons knowingly engaged in activities intended to further the international communist movement.

This proposal was first introduced by Congressman Rogers during the last Congress and passed the House of Representatives but no action was taken in the Senate. Its purpose would be to return to the Secretary of State his traditional power to refuse to grant passports if the Secretary feels this would be in the best interest of our government.

The Supreme Court held in a decision in 1959 that the Secretary of State had no legal basis for denying passports to an American citizen, although this had been done in the past when the Secretary felt that our national security could be endangered.
